

Protect yourself from sight loss

Dry AMD affects people differently. The condition progresses at varying rates and while there isn't a cure or treatment yet, there are things you can do to help slow the progression of the disease and minimise the risk of sight loss.

OcuPlan allows me to access private consultancy for very little money and means I am not dependent on the NHS.

We understand that people with AMD want peace of mind that their sight is being looked after, that they are informed on any progression and they are provided with the advice they need to help preserve their sight. OcuPlan offers consultant led AMD care from only £19.99 per month. Through regular in-person meetings with your local consultant ophthalmologist you receive personalised care and advice to help protect your sight.
